

Community Health Nurses' Initiatives Group (CHNIG)

Education Award 2023

Purpose

This award will be given to a community health nurse who demonstrates excellence and dedication in all aspects of practice, education, research, and leadership. The successful recipient will be announced and presented with a $1000.00 award at the CHNIG Annual General Meeting.

Eligibility

The nominee must be:

- A registered nurse in good standing with the College of Nurses of Ontario.
- A member of CHNIG for a minimum of one year. A confirmation letter or e-mail to establish membership in CHNIG is required.
- The nominee is aware of the nomination and has given consent for their name to appear on CHNIG media.

Application Process

The following documents are required:

- A confirmation letter or email from RNAO of RNAO and CHNIG membership: A minimum of one year
- The nominee's curriculum vitae: Please see guidelines below*
- A one-page summary (Max 500 words) that contains biographical information about the nominee
- Two reference letters from individuals at separate organizations (employment or professional association). The references should evaluate the applicant's commitment to community health nursing through leadership, scholarship, research, social justice and citizenship, and/or advancement to community health nursing

*CV format – 3 Page Limit

- Professional Work (including community health experience) and Educational Background
- Formal and informal community-based activities that may include but are not limited to: professional development, leading workshops through work or an association, volunteer activities such as community health nurse conference planning or abstract reviewing, participation in projects or reports, collaboration on research, or any contributions to community health nursing
- Professional Memberships

Deadline

The deadline for all supporting documents is Monday, May 15, 2023 at 11:59 PM.

The successful recipient will be notified by June 9, 2023. An announcement and presentation will also be made at the Annual General Meeting. The successful recipient will be announced and presented with a $1000.00 award at the CHNIG Annual General Meeting.